Packmarknaden - a world of packaging!

Packmarknaden is the industry-leading media channel for everyone who has packaging on their daily agenda. Here, as a reader, you will find the latest news from the industry's suppliers and, as an advertiser, you will find a target group of professionals in the packaging value chain.

Packmarknaden has existed as a newspaper magazine since 1978 and is published with six issues per year. Each edition is distributed to around 3,000 professional recipients and additional editions are distributed at fairs and conferences Packmarknaden attends. The magazine is also published in e-magazine format for online reading, and as a subscriber you therefore always have access to "your" magazine by logging in to Packnet.se. Packnet.se is the Packmarknaden online portal. Here, up-to-date news from the industry is conveyed, here there is a supplier register for those looking for new suppliers, and here our member companies can publish their own news about their company. As a company, you can also reach new customers with digital advertisements on Packnet.se or in one of the newsletters.

The newsletters are sent twice a week – Tuesdays and Thursdays – and summarizes the news flow to over 8,000 recipients who signed up for the newsletter free of charge. However, some articles are behind login and therefore to be able to read all content on Packnet.se, a subscription to Packmarknaden is required. On Packnet.se you find favorable subscription offers on Packmarknaden!

In addition to our magazine and our daily online news coverage, we share knowledge about packaging to a professional target group through several events each year. You have probably heard of PACK@lunch – lunch seminar on packaging or PACK POINT NORDIC – a one-day packaging conference in Stockholm with a Scandinavian outlook or the PACK & PLAST packaging conference which focuses on the role of plastics for efficient distribution of goods.

Links to our events can be found on Packnet.se under Menu and Calendar.

Welcome to a world of packaging!
