A word from the

ROTAREX can look back at a history and experience of more than 80 years and a commitment to quality products, systems and innovations aligned with a continuously optimized process oriented production structure.

We consistently provide for our clients technical assistance as well as serving problem solutions on a global and local level in varied market sectors.

Our philosophy for communication and partnership are the keys to ongoing success in our key product areas of valves, fittings and regulators and other gas management products

From earliest days Rotarex has extended it's field of activities beyond our traditional and core markets to meet the demanding and on time requirements of the petrochemical, micro electronic and automotive / future fuels markets

We are looking forward to new challenges and to further good and constructive cooperation.
