ROXTEC TRANSIT DESIGNER

SOFTWARE FOR EASY DESIGN OF CABLE AND PIPE TRANSITS

The Roxtec Transit Designer is developed for design departments using the Roxtec sealing system. It simplifies product selection according to needs and requirements and it improves the entire process of designing, purchasing and installing cable and pipe transits.

Simple input – approved output
Just enter your cable schedule, sealing or certification requirements, installation preferences and preliminary opening sizes to generate manufacturer-approved drawings and documents. The software drives efficiency and reduces the risk of mistakes in all phases.

Always available
To start using the Roxtec Transit Designer, register on www.roxtec.com. You can share your work with project teams anywhere in the world as it is accessible online. Roxtec transit design experts are always there to help you in your language through the chat function.

If you have any questions, please contact your Roxtec representative.
