Marketing channels

Tailor-made marketing creates value

The newsletter is sent out daily to more than 12,800 people and the portal is visited every day by an average of over 4,000 unique users, who have an average of 2 page views.
By combining insertions in the newsletter and on the portal, advertising in newsletters and banner advertising, a number of marketing advantages are achieved over traditional marketing.

- Advertising typically takes place over a long period of time, which fits well with most companies' continuous marketing needs.
- Next, the marketing is targeted at the right target group and decision makers. 50 views for the right people is far worth more than 50,000 views for a completely random group of people.
The people we methodically associate with our newsletter, as recipients, are predominantly directors, purchasing managers, production managers and development managers.
- Marketing via the internet is much cheaper in relation to the benefits than marketing via traditional media, direct mails and the like. We give-is quite simply extremely many exposures compared to just about all other media types.
- Building awareness can be done through frequent impressions of both indents and ads. In a world where customers themselves are looking for information, new competencies and new subcontractors on the Internet, marketing is very much about building awareness.
- Immediate path from Attention to Response. In addition to informing the number of exposures and thereby increasing the level of awareness, the number of direct clicks from the ads and to the website is also stated.
- Your indentations are available when the customer has a current need and search is for a solution - this applies regardless of whether the customer searches on the portal or via the search engines.
- Direct access to you via associated telephone numbers or email - the customer can proceed immediately.
- Search engine optimization as a not insignificant additional benefit.

Therefore, advertising on the Internet is increasing in recent years, while traditional advertising and marketing is declining (Source: Danish Circulation Control - Advertising revenue on the Danish Advertising Market).
These synergies between portal, newsletters and advertising are also the reason why any advertiser is advised to be a member.

All the ads on the portal and in the newsletter are industry relevant. You will not find ads for telephone companies and the like on our portals. It seemed 80% of our readers are important too.

Advertiser Guidelines

It should be clear to readers what are ads and what are articles written by the editors. Therefore, ads must differ from the layout - both on the portal and in the newsletter, so that readers are not misled and think that an ad is an article written by the editors.

In general, advertisers are asked to use a different font than ours. On the website, the word Advertisement appears automatically just above the banner. In contrast, on advertising in the newsletter, the word Advertisement should appear clearly at the top of the advertisement, if there is no doubt that it is an advertisement - so we follow the legislation in this area.

If we consider the ad to be too close to the editorial texts, we will ask to change the font and/or add the company logo so that it is clear that it is an ad. This is done to live up to the rules laid down by the Consumer Ombudsman.

Furthermore, you only have to market for your own company and your products - i.e. no misleading product comparisons or bad publicity of competitors - then the Marketing Act is also complied with
